

September/October 2008 Update

I am taking three courses this Fall, Statistics for Researchers, Approach to Research, and Marine Pollution. I got to participate in some field work for Marine Pollution where we sampled in the Great Bay to classify the estuary. In addition to coursework, I am preparing for my Clean Gulf Pre-Conference presentation (Oct. 28 in San Antonio, TX). This Fall has been filled with other presentations for research board members and the Coast Guard.
