

July Update

For most of July I was catching up on the much needed OSHA HAZWOPER course and vigorously reading all about oil, the history of the Mississippi River, and floods, culture, and the disappearing wetlands in Louisiana. All of this helped prepare me for my drastic move to Baton Rouge at the end of the month.